Another major place of interest to be visited is the City Hall with the long galleries, the blue room and the Golden Hall with walls of gilded mosaics. Unique experience – Guided Roof Top Tour and Walk in the Old Town

The old town, built on three islands in the heart of the city, is a must for any visitor. This is where Stockholm was founded in the 13th century, and the medieval atmosphere still prevails with its narrow streets, old houses, its picturesque squares, its many artist studios & shops! The area being without a car, the best way to explore is on foot.

See Stockholm from the rooftops on a guided tour, well secured with safety equipment. It's a unique combination of climbing and sightseeing. Even though many may view the height as a challenge, it is not this aspect that is the main aim of the tour. The old Parliamentary Building is indeed a good starting point for the history of Stockholm, and presents a nice view of the oldest parts of town, i.e. Gamla Stan and surrounding area
